

NCPA Conference 2010: A Publishing and Writing Odyssey

I am pleased to announce the opening of registration for NCPA's upcoming annual conference, "A Publishing and Writing Odyssey."

This value-packed day of presentations for publishers and authors will be on Saturday, April 24, 2010, at the Red Lion Hotel, 1401 Arden Way, Sacramento, California. Seating is limited and advance reservations are strongly advised. Mark your calendar and be sure to register.

Reservations are on a first-come, first-served basis and require payment in advance. Your prompt reservation to attend this wide-ranging conference will provide you a healthy discount off the on-site day-of-conference registration fee of $145.00.

Early-bird registrations MUST be postmarked by no later than February 17, 2010, but I urge you to register as soon as possible, as seating is limited and registrations could be cut off early as a result.

Among the features of this fine conference are:*

- Keynote address by Dominique Raccach, founder of Sourcebooks, Inc., and one of Book Business's "Top 50 Women in Publishing."
- Book marketing and distribution for publishers and authors
- Financial insights for independent publishers
- Public relations for publishers and authors
- Building fame for fiction and nonfiction authors
- A literary agent's views
- Negotiating the e-world for publishers and writers
- And MUCH MORE for publishers and authors, including a superb buffet lunch

See the conference agenda and registration form for more information.

Make your check or money order payable to NCPA. Send with completed registration form to:
